FOREWARD

There are different types of Repertories in HOMOEOPATHIC literature based on different principles. More and more complicated, computer aided one are finding in the market these days. Many of them are difficult and cumbersome for easy comprehension for a busy practitioners and Beginners.

HATTA's pocket repertory is yet another addition on the same topic. In this work, he has made attempt to correct and modify some difficulties, experienced in certain bigger work. The advantage in this repertory is, it is simple and comprehensive.

HATTA POCKET REPERTORY A

Critical Review

I have gone through the manuscript of 'HATTA<sup>1</sup> POCKET REPERTORY'. So many pocket repertories are available in Homoeopathic World, but in this repertory, he has made attempt to introduce simple method, with 'MIASMATIC INDICATION' of each rubric, which will help physician to know predisposing or back - ground: causes of ailments, and able to prescribe anti-miasmatic remedy for ailments.

Hatta's method is to arrive at a remedy on the basis of "ESSENTIALS". This is mostly useful for bed-side prescription.

Homoeopathic prescription centers rounds the symptomatology and success of one physician depends upon his ability to select the same in a most reliable manner.

Prescription should be based on :

- (a) Causes prescription and predisposing:
- (b) Modalities
- (c) Deviation from physiological function and appetite, desire, sleep and sex.

Construction of Pocket Repertory

Physician must know construction of the repertory
Hatta's Pocket Repertory has three chapter.

- (i) Generalities
- (ii) Mental Generals
- (iii) Modalities; Aggravation, Amelioration.

Choice of rubric are made on the bases of location, sensation and modalities.

Pocket Rubrics are arrange alphabetically.

Example	Rubric	Reference	Miasm	Remedies
	Card No.	to Hatta key card repertory		(most indicated)

ABDO MEN	alive: sensation	1	: Ps :	CROC THUJA
-------------	---------------------	---	--------	---------------

I trust that Physician and students will find this pocket repertory useful in day to day to practice.

Author has already compiled CARD REPERTORY which is an unique work in the field of card repertories; which is easily under standable and operateable .Even laymen can use and will prove its usefulness for all homoeopathic lover.
