Calc-fluor: Case

11 years old Boy
Main complaints: Hard ganglion in his wrist

It was much watery one year ago, and was taken out by an injection. However, it has been swollen again, and it seems that the bone is hard and deformed.

Yui 'How are his teeth?'

Mother 'They are relatively strong, but he tells me that they ache if he eats sweets and cold things.'

Yui 'How about your own teeth?'

Mother 'They are weak. Before I got pregnant, I was advised to apply fluorine to make them to be strong, and I did so. I don't tend to have decayed teeth so much since then.'

Yui 'When he was born, did anything wrong thing happen?'

Mother 'In fact, he had a harelip slightly. He had operation immediately, so he escaped with having a small scare only.'

*Calc-fluor is a remedy for a harelip and ganglion.

Yui 'What would you like to be in future?'

Boy 'As I am good at mathematics, I would like to use this talent.'

Mother 'He is a capable person, and saves a New Year's gift (money) and his pocket money a lot. I was also a tightfisted person comparatively. '

Calc-fluor 12X 1 bottle (approx. 33 pillules) x Morning and Night

After one month, the ganglion had been getting smaller.

Night 1 Calc-fluor 1M x 2 days

Two weeks interval

Night 2 Ruta 10M x 2 days

After three months, ganglion had disappeared, and discharges from his ears had been dried. Surprisingly, his deep attachment to money has been also decreased, and he bought a stuffed toy as a present to his sister.
