LUNA
(Moonlight)

PHARMACY - Luna. Luna. Moonlight. Moon's Rays. Sugar of milk is exposed on a glass plate to the moon's rays and stirred with a glass rod meanwhile. The sugar of milk so charged is dynamized in the usual way, (Fincke). Higgins made a preparation by exposing pure water to the moon's rays for three or four hours in South America and then dynamizing the water so charged. Historical dose: All potencies. Planets: Moon. HISTORY - Goullon contributed to the Rev. Horn. Beige, January, 1897, a notable article on "The Influence of the Moon on the Human Organism," in which he mentions, among other interesting facts, that sleepwalking is a lunar effect, that worm disorders are most troublesome at the full moon and that goiter changes, more or less with the moon. HOMEOPATHIC - Luna has the majority of the symptoms in the generative sphere, the head and the lower limbs. Excessive edema of face, neck and hands with neuralgic pains in the swollen parts.

Luna is excellent in sour belchings, especially if tasting of ingesta. Among other maladies notably influenced by the moon is epilepsy and epilepsy worse at full moon may need Silica. Scabies and worm disorders are worse at full moon. Nervous affections, especially in subjects of sycosis, are frequently influenced by the moon. Skin diseases. Acrid yellow leucorrhoea through day with backache. Pain in right ovary.

CLINICAL - Acidity. Epilepsy. Headache. Inter-menstrual flow. Insomnia. Edema. Female disorders. Menses, irregular. Nightmares. Sleep disorders. Sleepwalking. Worms.

Modalities - The pains were better in open air, better by cold application, better by belchings and by passing flatus from vagina, worse After sleep, worse from milk. MIND - Irritability on being spoken to. Wants to be let alone. Mind not clear. Disinclined for mental or physical labor. Sad, depressed. Mental faculties, especially ability to receive, retain and express ideas, are most powerfully affected by the full rays of the moon in tropical countries, the influences being most felt the day before the full moon. Abdomen - Colic, commencing two inches above umbilicus and seeming to pass directly upward to stomach, causing desire to bend forward. Faint feeling in stomach on awaking and sensation of great distention and slight pain round umbilicus, better by belchings. Pain through liver and spleen. 3 p.m. Back - Very severe pain in sacral region in evening.

Chest - After ascending stairs, a peculiar heating sensation, beginning at lower extremity of sternum and extending outwards. Attachment of diaphragm on each side to a point under each arm, at same time warm glow down arms to finger-tips, most in left. Eyes - Weakness of eyes and feeling of sand worse by the medicine. Sharp stinging sensation, leaving a smarting. Stinging in right eye cured. Swelling of eyelids and profuse discharge of purulent matter with a painful smarting and profuse lachrymation without heat or change of color. Face - Edema of face.

cervical nerve intermittent every few seconds. Sharp pain in left great toe. Swollen feeling and sensation as if tightly bound in right calf and in hypochondria. Pain like growing-pain above left knee, better walking. After retiring, aching in bones of lower limbs with pain in lumbo-sacral region. Great lameness in anterior tibial region from walking. Mouth - Bitter taste left side of tongue with increased flow of saliva. Repeated eighth dose with stinging in right eye. Recurred on waking with faint feeling in stomach.

Increased flow of saliva, all day. Nose - Sensation of a cold in head. Coryza, sneezing and pain in occiput. 4 p.m. sensation of heavy cold in head with lachrymation. Discharge of yellowish-green mucus from nose.

Rectum - Urgent desire for stool, immediately better by passing flatus. Skin - Stinging itching right side of body as if an insect was biting the parts, felt most on foot, leg and forearm. Sleep - Symptoms worse on waking. Felt as if had not slept enough. Dreams: horrible of death of murder, waking in affright. Stomach - Sour belchings, especially if tasting of ingesta. Flatulency with burning in stomach. Burning worse after drinking milk. Woke at midnight with severe heartburn and great distress in stomach, had to get out of bed. Temperature - Woke 6 a.m. with severe chill after which he had headache, felt sick and weak all day, at night had horrible dreams of death.

Throat - Some soreness in throat.

COMMENTS - Goullon quotes a remarkable case of sleepwalking from the Cercle Medical:

"A youth of fifteen in good health in other respects, had been withdrawn from his apprenticeship, on account of his nightly promenades on roofs. He was put in a private asylum. Although his room was oriented so that no actual moon-rays could reach it, the moon nevertheless exercised a potent influence upon him. As soon as it reaches the horizon he gets out of bed and carefully with closed eyes, moves towards a window, so high that he has to jump in order to reach and open it.

As it is barricaded with an iron trellis he gets down and, crossing the corridor, goes to the outer door, above which is a window. With cat-like agility he climbs up to this, when he is seized by three warders, who take him back to his room, where, only after the moon has set, can he lie down and go to sleep. In the morning he remembers nothing. At full moon the symptoms are still more extraordinary."

Skin diseases, according to Menuret, are frequently influenced by the moon. He instances a case of eczematous affection which increased with each waning moon and was at its maximum intensity at the new moon. When it covered the whole face and chest and was accompanied by unbearable itching. Then there was gradual improvement and the face became smooth, but scarcely had the full moon passed than all began again.
