6 FOREWORD

South African Plant Experiences is an exciting book. It is a report of a discovery journey in South Africa. It is as exciting as it was some 4 centuries ago but this time the journey is going more inward. In the past the discovery travelers went into the countries to discover plants, animals, minerals and cultures. This journey is not only a discovery of plants of South Africa, but more that of the inner states of the plants.

Martin Jakob has all the qualities for such a discovery journey. He is inquisitive, open and tough enough to withstand all the hardships that come with it. He traveled through the South African land and wilderness to discover special plants. He saw how the plants were growing there, in their own natural state and that gave him already a very good and deep impression of the state of these plants. His open mind let him to see in the sense proving core aspect of their state. The result is fabulous.

Many homeopaths are not very inclined to buy or read proving and source books. This is understandable as one wants to know and use the result of the discovery journey of a remedy. It is enough to know the essence of a remedy and it is not necessary to know all the details and minor possibilities. But sometimes it is very good to go to the source and see where all the information came from, how it was discovered. In this sense this book is a very good one. It gives one an idea of the process of remedy discoveries. The book shows all the aspects of sense provings. It shows the work to be done to add a remedy to the homeopathic pharmacies. I recommend this book in this respect: a report of a wonderful journey.
