FOREWORD

Dr. B. P. Madrewar, who was my M.V.Sc. student in 1973-74, has written this book on the much needed but hardly touched field of use of homoeopathy in livestock. We all know that homoeopathy is being effectively practised on human beings for centuries. Awareness in problems of health and production in animals has attained great significance under the changed economic scenerio of the country. Although allopathy is practised for treatment of animals presently, a therapy cheaper, more effective and less harmful in terms of side-effects is needed for the ailing livestock of the rural poor. Dr. Madrewar, by writing this book, has rendered a great service in this direction.

Dr. Madrewar had earlier published a book on homoeopathy in Marathi. However, due to constant demand for use of homoeopathy in treating animals, he has now written this book in English and added more information based on his experience.

It is with great pleasure that I went through this book THERAPEUTICS OF VETERINARY HOMOEOPATHY. In my opinion this book will be of immense help to practising veterinarians, students and to those interested in homoeopathy in general. The chapter "QUICK PRESCRIPTION" will be helpful from practical point of view even to livestock owners.

I wish Dr. B.P. Madrewar every success in his endeavour to serve the veterinary profession.
